SAD SACKS FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO TAKE
13TH STRAIGHT WINMohicans Topple League
Leaders In Civic Center
Battle

The number 13 jinx tumbled the league-leading Sad Sacks for their first defeat after 12 straight victories last night in the Intermediate Basketball League at the Watervliet Civic Center, but the loss presented no threat to their hopes for the championship title in the 15-game schedule.

It was the Mohicans in second place, that wrested the victory from the leaders, nosing them out to the score of 39-36 and building up their margin as runners-up to a total of eight wins and five losses. John Kaevers and Steve Gally with 22 and 11 points respectively led the attack for the Mohicans, while Joe Struzenski with 17 points and Maurice Stack with nine were high men for the Sad Sacks.

The Cadets won 36-35 over the Nutcrackers in an overtime period. McDonald's field goal clinched the margin of the victory, and McDonald with 12 points, Bill Murray with 11 and Chick Robinson also with 11 led the winners' scoring. Bill Vanderhoof scored 11 and Bob Olson eight points to lead the losers.

The Luce All-Stars nosed out a 19-15 victory over the Bullets, Bill Jewett with seven and Tom Kulzer with six points were high men for the winners and Tom Kenyon with nine points was best for the losers.

The night's contests put the Cadets and All-Stars in a two-way tie for third place in the league, with six wins and seven losses apiece. The Nutcrackers dropped to fourth place with five wins and eight losses, and the Bullets trailed with two wins and 11 losses.

AUTHORITIES CLAIM

OIL SITUATION TO BE WELL UNDER CONTROL

Authorities claim the emergency oil situation is "well under control" with sufficient supplies on hand in the fire houses to meet the present run of applications.

While there was a considerable drain on supplies yesterday by those who had been unable to get oil during the week-end but a "backlog" of about 150 gallons remains in the emergency tanks.

The authorities expressed belief that many of those who called on the emergency supplies during the heavy cold wave now are obtaining fuel from their regular dealers. The first allotment for this week is promised for Friday but it was said that some may be obtained before that day.

RESCUE BOY FROM BEING DROWNED IN
ICE FILLED RIVERElderly Employee Of City
Wades Into Cold Water;
Playmate Gives Alarm

A 74-year-old Watervliet city employee climbed down an ice covered bank in the rear of the Watervliet incinerator plant yesterday afternoon and pulled ten-year-old Robert Langford, 513 Broadway, from the Hudson River where he had broken through the soft ice while playing with a seven-year-old companion.

Shortly before 4 p.m. yesterday, John Clancey, 810 Nineteenth Street, heard the cries of a young boy running toward the incinerator plant where he is employed. The boy directed Clancey to the bank of the river where he could see young Langford foundering in the freezing water and struggling against the swift current under the ice.

Clancey started down the icy river bank clutching the few twigs and tufts of dry grass that broke through the frozen surface. Reaching the bottom, he managed to get to the boy with a long stick and pulled him to solid ground.

The boy was taken to the incinerator plant and Clancey called Sgt. Robert M. Conlen from Watervliet Police Headquarters. Sergeant Conlen called the fire department and an inhalator. Sergeant Conlen arrived at the plant to find the boy in good condition but discovered that Clancey had injured his shoulder in rescuing the boy.

Young Langford was taken home by the police and Clancey was taken to the office of Dr. Joseph Zepf where he was treated for pulled muscles in the shoulder and then sent home.

Sgt. T. F. Connors and Patrolman Richard Meher investigated for the Police Department and Firemen George Rancourt and William Tracy were in charge of the inhalator.

EBENEZER SCROD,
CHAMP MISER, HAD MONEY TO BURN

Boyle Tells Story Of Man
Who Made Career Of Saving

BY HAL BOYLE.
New York (AP) — Once upon a time there was a poor little boy named Ebenezer Scrod.

When he was five years old a stranger gave him a bright new nickel. It was the first money Ebenezer had ever had. The shiny coin hypnotized him.

"I want a million just like it," decided the boy. At an age when other jads aspired to be cops or firemen Ebenezer knew what he wanted to be—a successful miser.

The little skintint went right to work. Everything he earned he saved. He lapped at every other kid's lollipop, but never fished out a penny to buy one himself.

When he was twenty he left his family. He was afraid they'd find the cans of nickels locked in his closet. He moved into a $6-a-month room in a coldwater flat.

He never saw a baseball game, bought a drink or had a date with a girl. His idea of fun was to stand in a subway station and listen to the music of nickels dropping into the turnstiles.

During his 31st year he was afraid his stacks of nickels would collapse the floor of his ramshackle room. So he began trading them in for pictures of Benjamin Franklin—on $100 bills.

When he was 45 he was fired from the loan shark firm that employed him. Ebenezer had been coming to work every day for six years in the same seedy suit he bought at a fire sale.

"He looks too much like one of our customers," complained the manager. "Gives the place a bad name."

Ebenezer never held a job after that. He lived completely off the cuff. He got his shoes and newspapers from trash cans. Janitors supplied him with castoff clothing, and he soon built up a list of old maids who were good for a good handout once a week. He also learned that cafeteria patrons often leave tasty tidbits on their unfinished plates.

His money hoard kept growing. Ebenezer sat during the day on the steps of an abandoned building in Greenwich Village. He never begged, but tourists often mistook him for an unemployed Rembrandt and tossed him coins.

When he was 70 years old, he sat down one night on a park bench beside a drunken old bum. "I can't kick at life," said the bum. "I been everywhere and seen everything. I had three wives and I made $15,000 a year in my time. I spent it all on booze and women. If I had it back, I'd do it all over again."

"I never went with a girl or tasted liquor in my life," said Ebenezer, feeling sorry for himself. The old bum fixed him with a rye-colored eyeball.

"You look like you got one foot in the grave now. Why don't you kick loose and go on a spree before it's too late?"

Ebenezer shuffled on home. The old bum's reference to death frightened him. When he had lit the candle end in his room and set it on an old orange crate, he began to think:

"Why shouldn't I have some fun? Just this once."

But what to do? He couldn't blow himself to a steak dinner or a cocktail. His lemon-small stomach would collapse from surprise. Then Ebenezer saw the candle begin to flicker and he had an idea.

Quickly he lifted a closet board and pulled out his savings of seventy years. He counted them as he did every evening. There were 1,000 $50 bills and five $1 bills—$50,005 in all.

Ebenezer gingerly pulled out a one-dollar bill and held it over the candle. Fascinated, he watched as the flame flared up and licked the green bill. In terror and delight he held up the other four $1 bills, one after another, and watched them burn to ashes. He hadn't had so much fun since he got his first nickel.

As the candle died out Ebenezer put the remaining $50,000 in his shirt front and crawled into bed, pulling some gunny sacks over him. "Boy, oh boy, what an evening," he said. "Another night like this would kill me."

Moral: You're never too old to have fun—if you've still got money to burn.

ORDERED TO RUN CARS

Traction Lines Must Operate By Tuesday Morning.

MAY USE STRIKEBREAKERS.

Following Order of Public Service Commission, United Traction Company Prepares to Resume Trolley Car Service—One Commissioner Dissents From Order—Supplies Taken to Car Barns—Force of "Guards" Being Organized—Preparations for Operating Cars With Strikebreakers Unless Company and Employees Come to Agreement—Mayor Takes Protective Measures.

Resumption of service on all its lines by 8 o'clock next Tuesday morning was the order issued by The United Traction Company at 10 o'clock this morning by the Public Service Commission.

Order Followed Commission Hearing.

This is the direct outcome of the hearing yesterday afternoon before the Commission, at which the company was asked to show cause why it should not resume trolley car operations or why the commission should not apply to the courts to compel such restoration of service.

One Commissioner Dissented.

Commissioner John A. Barhite dissented from the order issued this morning, declaring that the Public Service Commission had no power to take such drastic steps.

Company to Use Strikebreakers.

A statement issued by the company to-day said that the company would not put its cars in operation before the time limit, and that preparations are being made to put strikebreakers on the cars.

State Police to Patrol Highway.

If the cars are sent out of the barns Tuesday morning in charge of non-union operatives, members of the State Constabulary will patrol the Troy-Albany Road.

Mayor Directs Safety Precautions.

Emergency means to safeguard public safety in Troy will be taken, it was announced to-day by Mayor Fleming, following a conference with Commissioner of Public Safety McDonough.

Meeting of Local Union Called.

Joseph F. McLaughlin, President of the Troy Trolleyman's Union, to-day called a meeting of his men for to-morrow night in the Labor Temple on Congress Street, at which additional pickets will be appointed.

Company May Make Last Plea.

It is understood that the company will direct a final plea to the striking employees to return to work before placing the cars in the hands of strikebreakers. When asked to-day what the men would do in answer to such a plea, Mr. McLaughlin replied: "It all depends on what the company has to offer."

Company Makes Preparations.

In the meantime preparations are being made at the car barns in Troy and Albany for the quartering of the strikebreakers. The Lansingburgh barns particularly afforded a busy scene to-day. Private detectives from the Reed Detective Agency of Albany are stationed at the barns. When asked if the company is prepared to man the cars with strikebreakers an official of the company answered: "Not quite, but we are getting ready."

Report Coaches May Be Used.

It was reported this morning that railroad coaches are being made ready at the Colonie shops of The Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company, owners of The United Traction Company, in which to house non-union men. Members of the shopmen's unions stated that the minute strikebreakers are brought into the Colonie yards the union men would quit work. In face of this threat it seems probable that the cars will be taken to some other point.

Organizing a Protective Force.

In connection with equipping its commissaries, The United Traction Company is making preparations to organize a protective force. Sixty men arrived from New York last night at 9:45 o'clock and after being taken to the office of William A. Humphrey, the well-known railroad detective, they went to the St. Francis Hotel in Albany, where some of them were quartered. Those who could not find accommodations at that hotel went to others. Members of the party declared they were in Albany to act as "guards" and said they were to be followed by two more carloads. The men explained that while they had been engaged to act as property protectors for the company, a good many of them were qualified to serve as metemen and conductors.

Importation of Strikebreakers.

Most of the strikebreakers, it was learned, are being imported from the northern and western parts of Albany lines are making their headquarters in the vicinity of the barns and there are a number of the men stationed there at all times. One union official stated this morning that it was evident The Traction Company would not attempt to operate the Albany lines even if the strikebreakers are put on to resume the car operations. When operation of service was suspended last Saturday morning ten of the Albany cars were run into the Lansingburgh barns for storage.

Guards at Transformer Station.

Two detectives from Reed's Detective Agency were placed on guard duty last night at the property of The United Traction Company at Broadway and Twenty-fifth Street, Watervliet. The property is considered one of the most important portions owned by the traction company in this vicinity, owing to the fact that the transformer station converting power for all cars in Troy and vicinity is sent over the wires of the company from the Twenty-fifth Street station. Chief of Police Michael E. Corbett of Watervliet has also instructed his patrolmen on duty in the upper section of Watervliet to guard the property.

Arsenal Workers Not Affected.

At the office of the Watervliet Arsenal this morning it was asserted the strike on the lines of The United Traction Company was not interfering with the work at the big gun plant. At first it was thought it would be necessary to operate one or more of the big government trucks in conveying Trojans to and from their work. Owing to the excellent jitney service the operation of the big government trucks has not been necessary. Since the first day of the strike but few men have been reported late.

Counsellors Non-Interference.

This morning Rev. Peter J. Donnelly, pastor of St. Bridget's Church, Watervliet, stated he had been busy warning the members of his large congregation in the lower section of that city to keep out of trouble if strikebreakers were employed by The Traction Company in the operation of its cars. Rev. Father Donnelly said he had been through several big strikes in Pennsylvania, where strikebreakers had been employed, and fully realizes what will happen if non-union men are employed. The parish of Father Donnelly is located in close proximity of the big shops of The Delaware and Hudson Company in Colonie.

Cohoes Opposes Higher Fare.

General sentiment in Cohoes seems to be opposed to any plan whereby The United Traction Company would be voluntarily granted an eight-cent fare. Many citizens, when asked for their opinions, said they were anxious to see the strike settled, but thought that six cents was a just fare, but that seven cents, as the company has been receiving, should certainly be sufficient. Mayor James E. McDonald, who yesterday announced that on behalf of the city administration he would oppose an eight-cent fare on the lines of The United Traction Company, said that the company had placed their case in the hands of the Public Service Commission and that when that body decided the rate it should be satisfied.

Did Not Talk to Commissioners.

The following letter was received by The Troy Times this morning: Feb. 4, 1921.

Editor of The Troy Times.

In your article on the traction situation yesterday I saw that you had unintentionally misquoted me. I am reported to have said that one of the Public Safety Commissioners said to me that Albany was responsible for the action of the commission in ordering the Traction Company to show cause why it should not operate its cars and that another Commissioner had said that the commission was taking upon itself that had instituted the proceeding.

The fact is I stated to your representative that one of the officials connected with the commission had said that the commission was taking upon itself that had instituted the proceeding. I was evidently misunderstood. I talked with no Commissioner upon the subject.

Yours very truly,
THOMAS H. GUY.

AT LANSINGBURGH BARN.

Cots, Mattresses and Other Supplies Delivered at United Traction Company Carhouse—Detectives on Guard—Strikers Make No Comment.

Activities around the car barns in Lansingburgh last night indicated that preparations were being made to house and care for strikebreakers. Late in the afternoon, according to information given by persons living and working in that neighborhood, several trucks unloaded many cases of canned goods and tinned meats at the car barns. One of the traction company men admitted this morning that several cases of goods had been brought to the barns by Armour & Co. trucks, but denied that the cases unloaded contained foodstuffs.

"It was a quantity of soap and other toilet accessories the company ordered several weeks ago," he explained.

Cots and Mattresses.

Between 9 and 11 o'clock last night three or four truckloads of cots and mattresses were brought to the Lansingburgh car barns and taken inside. Another truck from an Albany hardware firm unloaded a number of oil stoves. Five detectives from the Reed agency at Albany are quartered in the barns.

Strikers Make No Comment.

About fifty of the strikers were gathered in a restaurant opposite the car barns this morning, but they had little to say about the strike. When informed by a Troy Times reporter the Public Service Commission had issued an order that the traction company must run its cars not later than 8 o'clock Tuesday morning they glanced significantly at one

RAILROAD MAKES DEMAND.

Troy Union Company Wants City to Join in Application to Legislature for Law Exempting Corporation From Taxation of Capital Stock—Future Course Not Determined.

A month ago The Troy Union Railroad Company sent a communication to the city of Troy asking the municipality to join the company in making an application to the State Legislature for the passage of a law exempting the company from taxation on property in Troy in excess of the capital stock of the corporation, fixed at $30,000. The local authorities did not comply with the request and consequently the Troy Union Railroad has served notice on the city which, it is believed, is laying the foundation for a demand on the city for the return by the city of all taxes paid by the company on an assessment in excess of $30,000 since 1909.

Basis of Claim.

The claim of the company is based on an agreement entered into July 1, 1858, between the city of Troy and the Troy Union Railroad which reads as follows:

The party of the first part agrees that if the law passed by the Legislature of the State of New York, Chapter 24, 1853, relative to the taxation of property of The Troy Union Railroad Company of Troy, shall, at any time be repealed, the Common Council of the city of Troy shall join in an application to the Legislature that The Troy Union Railroad Company shall be exempt from taxation upon the amount of the capital stock and that no tax be imposed upon The Rensselaer and Saratoga Railroad Company on account of the proposed addition to said bridge, and if such law shall not be passed, the Common Council of the city of Troy shall refund to The Troy Union Railroad Company an amount equal to the city taxes imposed upon the Troy Union Railroad Company for any valuation exceeding the present capital stock.

Company's Claim.

The company also claims that it has been finally determined by the United States Supreme Court that Chapter 201 of the Laws of 1909, which repealed Chapter 463 of the Laws of 1853, which limited the assessment of the property of the company to $30,000, is a valid act.

Given Fifteen Days to Comply.

The communication gives the city fifteen days to join with the company in an application to the Legislature for the passage of a bill, a default on the part of the city to be deemed as a refusal on its part to comply with the terms of the agreement of July 1, 1858. The communication was read at the meeting of the Common Council last night and referred to the Corporation Counsel. Mr. Guy said to-day he had not determined on future action. The assessment against the Troy Union Railroad in Troy is now $1,300,000.

HOOVER AT MUSIC HALL.

Chairman of European Relief Council to Address Meeting Next Thursday Night—Will Be Guest of Honor at Current Topic Club Banquet.

Herbert Hoover, Chairman of the European Relief Council and former United States Food Administrator, who is to be the guest of honor next Tuesday evening at the first Current Topic Club banquet of the 1921 season at the Troy Central Young Men's Christian Association rooms, will deliver his address on conditions in Europe at Music Hall following the banquet. Arrangements were completed at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the club last evening.

Although there will be no public distribution of tickets for the meeting at Music Hall, they may be procured from the members of the Current Topic Club, who will have charge of their distribution. The invitations for the banquet, which is to take place at 6:30 o'clock at the Young Men's Christian Association building, have been sent out, and indications are that this will be one of the most successful sessions of the club.

FORD POWER SAFE.

Attorney General's Office Gives Assurance That Action to Test Constitutionality of Some Provisions of Each Waterpower Act Will Not Affect Green Island Project.

In connection with the case to be instituted by State Attorney General Charles D. Newton to test the constitutionality of some provisions of the Each Waterpower act, giving the Federal Waterpower Commission the right to dispense waterpower in New York state, former Mayor C. F. Burns, Chairman of the Ford Industry Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, stated to-day that this does not include the federal dam at this city and will not interfere with the plans of Henry Ford & Son for the proposed plant at Green Island. Mr. Burns stated this was made clear to him by the State Attorney General's office. The dam here, it was pointed out to Mr. Burns, is the property of the federal government and the state has no jurisdiction over it.

No Police Orders Received.

At the Fourth Precinct Station House Sergeant Dwyer, who was on duty this morning, said he had received no special strike orders. He said if The Traction Company contemplated employing strikebreakers within the next few hours doubtless the police would have been notified.

Expect Strikebreakers.

It was rumored among the men assembled near the car barns this morning that a New York Central car filled with strikebreakers from New York city, was standing on a siding between Colonie and Albany, but this report could not be verified. The Albany Traction employees, however, said they expected strikebreakers to arrive within the next twenty-four hours.

The Common Council last night totally ignored the strike on the lines of The United Traction Company. Alderman Burkhardt had adopted an ordinance providing for an electric light in Billings Avenue between Spencer Street and Mountain View Court.

Claims Against City.

A claim for $7,500 damages against the city of Troy was received from Frank J. Eaton, who alleges that his son, Joseph Earl Eaton, came to his death on December 31, 1920, at the foot of Vanderheyden Street through negligence on the part of the city in failing to keep the dock in proper condition.

Another claim for $800 was received from William E. Cuff, who claims his automobile was badly damaged on December 5, 1920, when it went into an excavation on Christie Street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth Streets.

To Cancel Assessment.

A petition was received from St. Vincent's Female Orphan Asylum asking for the cancellation of an assessment for $15,500 against property on Ninth Street in the Thirtieth Ward now assessed in the name of Mary Agnes Burton. This property is known as the "Burton Homestead" and was recently transferred by Mrs. Burton to the asylum to be used as a summer home for the orphans. Alderman Miller introduced an ordinance providing for a cancellation of the assessment and it was referred to the Committee on Revenue and Taxes.

Commissioners of Deeds.

The following were confirmed Commissioners of Deeds: Victoria E. Stuts, George E. Hart, Harold Shields, Hazel Hughes and Orden J. Roam.

Granted More Time.

Further time was granted committees which have under consideration an ordinance providing for the acquisition of property on State Street by the city for police and fire purposes and an ordinance regulating the operation of vehicles for hire and an ordinance fixing the fee for gasoline pumps.

Reminder of Banquet.

On motion of Alderman Kapps a vote of thanks was extended President Philip A. Murphy, Alderman Fred C. Casey and Alderman John D. Gray, the committees which made the arrangements for the banquet held by the Aldermen last month.

Respect for Former Officials.

Alderman Fred C. Casey and Alderman John C. Warden had adopted motions directing the Clerk to send cards of condolence to the families of the late former Mayor Daniel E. Conway and the late former Corporation Counsel George B. Wellington, and the council adjourned out of respect to the two deceased city officials.

Picture Taken.

CONFESSED MURDER.

KILLED AN OLD MAN FOR $15—AN ALBANY MURDERER TELLS HIS STORY.

George Smith was arrested at Pittsford, in this county, yesterday, for a murder as cold-blooded as any found in the annals of crime in this county.
The confession, entitled an old man to take a ride. When in a lonely portion of the road near Albany Smith placed a revolver under his victim's chin and fired. He then took two more shots and then, after taking $15, he dropped the dead man's wallet, threw the body among the bushes by the roadside and drove away. The murder occurred Saturday night, June 16, and the body was not discovered until Tuesday, when the remains were badly decomposed. Smith was suspected, and as it was known he was born in the town of Brunswick and at one time worked in this city, Superintendent Willard was notified, and Detectives McCann and Nolan, of Albany, came to Troy.

On the Trail.
Superintendent Willard placed the case in the hands of Chief Detective Condon, and the Troy detective force was kept on the alert. Smith was traced to his hiding place and his capture effected.

The Crime.
The murdered man's name was Philip Richtmyer of Middleburgh, Schenectady county. He was seventy-four years old. Richtmyer was employed by Fred Schwartz of McKownsville, near Albany. He received $30 a month.
Some person who afterward proved to be Smith drove to Schwartz's home at McKownsville Saturday night, June 15, and called for Richtmyer, saying that D. W. Seelye, for whom Richtmyer was employed by Schwartz, wished Richtmyer. The latter drove away with the stranger.

Smith's Story.
Smith's story of the crime follows: "I was drunk when I did it, and I don't know why. I was with Richtmyer, and he got old Richtmyer. I told him that Seelye wanted him. He got in a car and I sat in the back seat. I took him to a place where I knew he would be. When we reached the place right there on Magazine street, I saw a man sitting in a car. I was sitting beside me looking straight ahead. I didn't say a word, but I pulled my revolver out and shot him. He didn't say a word or yell. I took his money. He was dead. I threw him out of the wagon into the bushes. I was sitting beside me looking straight ahead. I didn't say a word, but I pulled my revolver out and shot him. He didn't say a word or yell. I took his money. He was dead. I threw him out of the wagon into the bushes.

Smith was captured mainly through the efforts of the police. He was taken to the house by rheumatism. Assistant Superintendent Magill is acting in the former's place. The first carriers who will leave on their vacations a week from today are Messrs. Hagner, Downing, Harvey, Simmons and R. F. Benson.
—A movement is being made to organize good government clubs in each of the city wards, and a call, signed by thirty citizens, was issued for a public meeting to be held at the City Hall on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Hit Missed Here.
Superintendent Magill called at the City Hall yesterday morning to find that a man answering Smith's description had been seen at the residence of William T. Hyde & Co., on State street, Saturday, June 15. The man was seen at the residence of William T. Hyde & Co., on State street, Saturday, June 15. The man was seen at the residence of William T. The officers drove to Clinton's Corners, where Smith was seen. Smith's parents said he had not been there. The officers drove to Clinton's Corners, where Smith was seen. Smith's parents said he had not been there. The officers drove to Clinton's Corners, where Smith was seen. Smith's parents said he had not been there.

A Detective Crawl.
The pursuit arose at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. A farmer, Burton Shaffer, who lives on the farm near the intersection of the Troy and Albany roads, called on a farmer named John Rabbit, about three miles away.

Philosophizing.
He said in addition that a man might as well give up when he committed a murder. He said in addition that a man might as well give up when he committed a murder. He said in addition that a man might as well give up when he committed a murder.

Wordsworth's Seven—and They Will.
Seven faxen-haired and neatly clothed men arrived at the Times office with the following explanatory tag: "Do not, Messrs. Times. My little children have all been killed. All to take us into the country, and we feel the effects of the hot weather, very much, as you can see by our rumpled looks. Won't you please give us a room at the White Horse, where we can enjoy ourselves for once in our lives like other children. We've been shut up in boxes, with paper all over our faces. We have very high fever. We are called the 'Wordsworth children.' We have Mary and Belle, and Elsie and Tom, and Dot, and they are all very sick."
